Two Injured In Accident On 111 Today

Two teen-age Los Angeles City College students, both girls, were hospitalized this morning following a single car accident on Highway 111.

Injured when their car turned over on the curve at the north entrance to the city limits were:

CAROL COHEN, 18, 461 North Orange Grove, Los Angeles, who was treated for lacerations of the left knee and right hand, and who suffered possible back injuries.

Phyllis Scola, 16, 6331 Orange Street, Los Angeles, who suffered a contusion on the right side of the head, possible skull fracture, and a mild concussion.

Both girls have been hospitalized for observation.

MISS COHEN, driver of the 1950 sports car, apparently lost control of the vehicle as it left the divided highway and started into the dipped curve of the road. The car was almost a total loss, according to traffic officer Nick Maff.

This makes a total of 31 accidents in this stretch of highway in the past 2½ years.

SUN CARRIER TO APPEAR ON HOUSE PARTY

A television appearance — on Art Linkletter's House Party — today was an added bonus for Wayne Walker, Desert Sun Carrier, Boy, who won a trip for two to Hawaii in the Desert Sun sponsored Carriers' contest.

He will appear on Tuesday's Show over Channel 2 at 2:30 p.m.

His mother, Mrs. Alice Walker, also won a trip for two to Hawaii, and that made it possible for the entire family to enjoy a free vacation there.

Series on Budget Starts Today

(Editor's Note: In an attempt to better acquaint the people of Palm Springs, both here and on vacation, with the 1959-60 city budget, The Daily Desert Sun will run two articles, one covering city administration and the second materials, supplies and services).

By FRED C. WEIGEL
Palm Springs has budgeted $94,708 for personal services for the coming year.

This entire amount is the cost of maintaining a paid staff for municipal services, and it does not include contractual employees nor the fringe benefit costs of insurance and retirement.

Of highest interest in the particular category to local residents is the tremendous cutback of the Police Department budget, as requested by the Chief of Police.

FIRST JET LINER USES FACILITIES

The first intra-continental jet passenger airliner to land in Palm Springs made trial landings and takeoffs at Palm Springs Municipal Airport yesterday.

A Boeing 707 jet plane — Continental Airlines Golden Jet — made eight landings and takeoffs from the local airport as many local residents appeared at the airport to watch the display.

FLETCHER RAINER, public relations official for Continental, told The Desert Sun that the company had used the Palm Springs airport to make the land tests "because of the heavy traffic at Los Angeles International Airport."

Pilots of the plane, who were in constant touch with the local air terminal during the late morning tests, seemingly had no trouble landing the mighty airliner on the 7,000 foot landing strip.

THE "GOLDEN JET" could not stop in Palm Springs yesterday because the local airport does not have a starter for the reactivation of the engines.

An airport attendant said that the jet starter would cost approximately $18,000.

As the jet plane took off for the last time to head back to International Airport, the pilot called the local terminal and thanked them for allowing the use of the runway, and in turn was invited to return "at any time" by airport manager Roy Schreck.

Home Burglary Nets Television Sets, Clothes

The home of Samuel Greenfield, Chicago jeweler and local winter resident, was burglarized some time between Wednesday afternoon and this morning, according to police.

"When landing, the plane made a low whining sound, and as it took off, there was almost a deathly silence," said the reporter.

THE GIGANTIC plane, which carries a passenger load of 110 persons, is equipped with the most elaborate decor of any jet liner in the sky.

Rainer told The Desert Sun that the plane could make the local landing because of its absence of passenger, and its reduction in its fuel load. He added that the length of runway needed to handle this plane would necessarily have to be between 10,000 and 12,000 feet long.

Asking for a meeting by July 15, the Palm Springs Safety Council today sent a letter to C. V. Kane, district engineer, California Division of Highways, to try and arrive at a solution to the Highway 111 "deathtrap" at the north entrance to the city.

The letter, less than a page in length, reports the "very nature of our community's existence brings a multitude of new visitors here each day to enjoy the many qualities we have to offer."

"THESE NEWCOMERS are unfamiliar with our entrance to the city, and do not realize what lies ahead."

"A freeway is made for speed, and from this wide divided highway, visitors round a curve into a narrow, two lane downhill road, and then around a sharp curve which is unbanked, and then into an immediate raise."

The letter goes on to say that the total of 30 automobile accidents in the past 2½ years "can no longer go unchallenged by the Palm Springs Safety Council."

"It is of considered opinion that this situation is of a serious enough nature that the State of California must take immediate official action."

TWO PUBLIC HEARINGS HEAD 11 DESERT ITEMS FOR BOARD

Two public hearings head a list of 11 items of desert area interest scheduled for the regular Monday meeting agenda of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors.

Hearings start at 10 a.m. on Otto F. Opperman's appeal on denial of his permit for a rock quarry in Desert Hot Springs area and application of Paul P. Gelles to re-zone property in Cathedral area.

OTHER MATTERS of interest to the desert area were:

Ordinance 455 for licensing and regulating of dogs; report of the Board of Trade on a resolution of the City of Palm Springs relating to castanets and Pepe roaring Resolution requesting state to relinquish right-of-way for a frontage road along Highway 111; letter from the Banning Chamber of Commerce favoring the continuation of the present system for collection of sales tax.

RIVERSIDE CHAMBER of Commerce resolution urging continuance of the Bradley-Burns Act; recommendation to approve record of survey of M. O. Anderson; recommendation on request for abandonment of utility easements in Cathedral Canyon Heights subdivision.

ON "EL BOD EGORO," a cha cha, Bebe sang—and played bass well—while Mama rattled the maracas, Gene mounted the piano and Pepe took over his drums. It set things up for "El Manicero"—better known to statesiders as "The Peanut Vendor"—with Lupe singing and Gene rendering a superb flute solo.

Another cha cha cha—"Basilio"—featuring Pepe on conga drum and Lupe on a cowbell—with the tempo so infectious that the entire insides of the Chi Chi—including a session of the League of Riverside County Cities—threatened to move out onto Palm Canyon Drive.

THEY'VE BEEN DEALING their Latin music—in conjunction with the best they can find in American "standard" tunes—throughout the U.S. for some six years now and recently concluded a highly successful engagement in the Western Hills Hotel at Indian Wells. The reaction to the group at that location was so pronounced that the Chi Chi management determined to book the group at the first available date.

They're set for at least six weeks at the Starlite Room and the thinking at the Chi Chi after opening night was that there will be loud wailing from Villagers if they disappear from town at the end of that period.

In case you hate Latin music, drop around the Chi Chi anyway. The magnificence of the costumes in which Los Chicanos attire themselves is worth the time. Superlative—and all done by Mama.

Big Hit In First Show

By GEORGE LAINE
It shouldn't take longer than a couple of days for the word to get around the Village—Los Chicanos are in town.

The family-size entourage, fresh from an SRO engagement at the Hotel Duluth in rain-swept Minnesota, opened Thursday night in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi and the first night audience went wild.

THE GROUP FEATURES Emma, who is mother to the rest of Los Chicanos, on piano and rhythmic instruments; son Pepe on drums, accordion, and guitar; daughter Lupe on vibes and Spanish guitar; son Gene on sax, flute, drums and piano, and daughter Bebe, on bass. Everyone dances, sings, plays maracas, guido, etc.

And—for a refreshing change in the Starlite Room—there is no muzak. Another member of the family, son Chico, furnishes high caliber intermission piano music.

LOS CHICANOS seem to have the key for desert area club-goers. They mix a variety of familiar Latin and American tunes—like "Anna" and "I Get Ideas"—with some highly-stylized versions of their native Chilean songs. The results are dynamic.

The result is enhanced the more by the manner in which Los Chicanos vary their instrumentalations. They seemingly never utilized the same instruments twice in a row and the resulting switches on the Starlite Room stage have more action than the Los Angeles Ram backfield on a stutter play.

IN THEIR OPENING night first, the troupe started things with a paso doble called "Espana Canaria" which is also their theme. It had Lupe doing some wild things with castanets and Pepe roaring with his accordion. Lupe switched to vibraphone but Pepe retained the accordion for "I Get Ideas" and then the quintet fed the avid crowd a Latin waltz—"Las Chapanicas."

Palm Springs Has Always Had Population Trouble

Palm Springs, California, the world's fastest growing and foremost Winter resort, has always had population trouble.

And because of the very nature of the community, it quite possibly always will have.

Thirty years ago Palm Springs residents could be counted within 15 minutes by any enumerator, but today it takes two to three dozen specially trained census takers to make the count — and they too have trouble.

AN ESTIMATED permanent winter population of 22,000 persons is in Palm Springs, but this figure just doesn't count when state, county or U.S. officials want a population figure for the city.

The figure that is counted is one taken by the Census Bureau, either at the regular census taken each decade, or a special census taken by the bureau for the city and paid for by the taxpayers.

Palm Springs City administration this week signed the contract with the Department of Interior, Bureau of Census, for the 1960 count.

BUT IN THE meantime Palm Springs, even with the state signs on the highway, doesn't seem too sure of its present population. The signs at the entrance of town show the population to be 12,671. City Clerk records show the city to have 12,443; Chamber of Commerce quoted 12,600 on calls, and the city's monthly publication lists the 12,671 figure.

Some 228 persons were added to Palm Springs population when Section 30 was added to the city a few months ago, and today, with the proposed annexation of Sections 20 and 29, there may be more added to the city.

Palm Springs today covers an incorporated area of 39.0625 square miles.

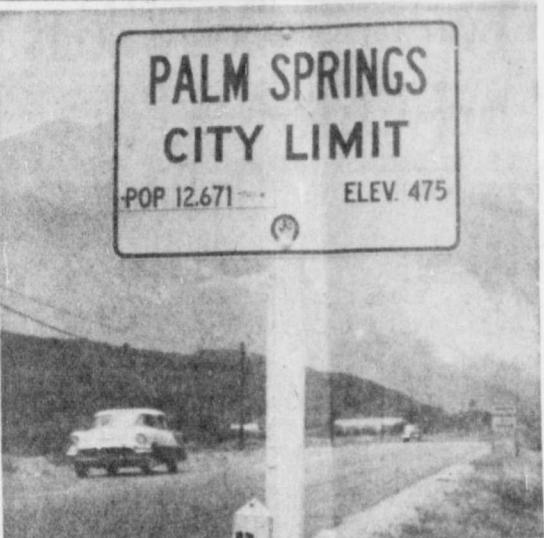

The U. S. Department of Interior was established in 1849.

Informal Relations

LOWELL, Mass. (UPI) — Sullivan Bros., local printing firm, has operated 40 years without a contract with any client — and rarely even a written order.

Explains Joseph E. Sullivan: "I tell them I'll do the work, and send a bill. That if they think it's too high, to tear it up. It's happened in only two instances."

The U. S. Department of Interior was established in 1849.

A LARGE PART OF a city's extra revenues is dependent upon its official population figure. Gas tax refund to the city, installation of governmental agencies, and airline service are all determined by the "official" population count of a city.

Fast growing areas of the state put many thousands of dollars a year into special census counts to bring up the tabulation, and most always are rewarded by the additional income to the city.

ONE OF THE MOST recent proposals that is somewhat dependent upon the population count is the building of a Department of Motor Vehicles here. One of the stipulations to the granting of funds for the department by the state legislature is that the area must have a population of 20,000 persons and be more than 20 miles from the nearest office.

Driver Has Responsibility

It's pretty much up to the individual motorist whether he and his family get home safely, declared Bradford M. Crittenden, commissioner of the California Highway Patrol, in noting that the summer vacation season is at law, or they may be mistakes in judgment, like staying on the road until fatigue slows their reactions. Either way, the erring drivers cause needless injury or death to themselves and others.

"Accidents are caused by people and people can prevent them if they will quit making driving mistakes," Crittenden asserted. "The mistakes may be something they do, like violating a traffic followed closely by improper turning, driving on the wrong side of the road, and driving while intoxicated.

"The only person who can keep John Doe out of trouble is John Doe himself," Crittenden declared. "He alone can control his actions, and if he uses defensive driving techniques every moment he is behind the wheel, he stands a good chance of getting home alive and unharmed."

Pianist William Dixon Has Two Operas to Credit--Will Blocked One Is With Alexander Orchestra

By GEORGE LAINE

Shortly after the turn of the century, English poet William Butler Yeats was strolling through the countryside of his country estate when he heard a group of British Boy Scouts singing.

The tune wasn't familiar but the words were. Yeats recognized it as one of his own poems and he was so appalled at the way the scouts were singing it that he had a clause added to his will specifying that none of his work should ever be set to music.

THE OBSCURE CLAUSE in Yeats' will rose up in 1945 to smite William Dixon, who is better known to Villagers as the pianist with Bill Alexander's Chi Chi Orchestra.

Dixon wrote an "operatic type" composition utilizing Yeat's poem "Shadowy Waters" and sent it off to William Burges.

"When I discovered I couldn't use the poem," Dixon recalled here yesterday, "I was sick."

Undismayed, the angular, 39-year-old pianist-composer set to work on a work of his own — a full length, one-act opera called "Judith."

"IT'S A BETTER work than the one with the Yeats," Bill said. "And it's all mine, too."

It isn't a perfect opera, Dixon readily admits.

"It's too long, for one thing. And I have a tendency to go into Wagnerian poses. It needs work— I'd like to make it a two-act opera but don't know where to cut it in half. I know my own faults."

DIXON HAS PUT together the kind of musical background that would enable him to do just that — recognize his own faults.

A graduate of Long Beach school, he entered USC's School of Music in 1938 and studied under a wide variety of musical experts.

One of the high points of his educational studies — he majored in composition — was a special course instructed by Howard Hanson, regarded by many as the most significant of modern American composers.

PUCCINI IS DIXON'S favorite operatic composer, but he listens to everything he can bring within ear range. He considers "Turandot" that giant's greatest opera but calls "Girl of the Golden West" his No. 1 choice.

"It's not American," Dixon said. "It's purely Italian. Still I love it." He shrugged.

Wagner is opera's "greatest genius," Dixon feels, but Richard Strauss' "Rosenkavalier" is a "work of genius," too.

IN FACT, DIXON points out, there is possibly a thread of genius in such composers as Samuel Barber, Gian-Carlo Menotti and Louis Poulenc.

"I heard Barber's 'Vanessa' broadcasted from the Met and I went right out and bought the recording."

Menotti's "Consul" isn't a thing that will be dismissed by future operatic companies, either.

"We're seeing Meyerbeer and Massenet slowly fall into disuse among opera companies and the Barbers and the Menottis are taking their places."

EVEN THOUGH YOU hear that opera companies still insist on doing old operas, that isn't a sign that they're not receptive to good new works," Dixon continued.

The New York City Opera Company, he pointed out, insists on inserting opera by new composers into its season each year and has given Menotti and Barber both exposure on their stages. Other new composers — like Douglas Moore and Carlyle Floyd — have also been produced by the company.

"New American operas have just as good a chance as anyone's opera," Dixon declared.

MARRIED AND FATHER of two boys and a girl, Dixon has been a fixture with Alexander's Chi Chi orchestra's for several years. This year Al brought a piano to Palm Springs from his off season home in Colton, hoping he'd be able to work on either "Judith" or his new effort — a psychological work with a Civil War backdrop.

"I thought I was going to be able to work on my own things," he said. "I worked alright, but not on my operas."

He spent more time arranging acts for Chi Chi entertainers (about eight hours per day) than in actually playing at the club's Starlite Room (only five hours per day).

HE BOTH ADMIRERS and appreciates Alexander and the crew in the band but it's economic necessity, not personal choice that keeps Dixon here.

"If I had the resources to do it, I'd rather study — and write more opera," Dixon stared off across the room.

He said the greatest need America knows at this juncture in its history is some sort of institute or workshop in which promising artists — music, graphic arts, literature and drama — may study and produce, work and exchange ideas.

"I'm not sure I'd be accepted by such an institute," he said. "But me and a number of other people would be given a great deal more initiative if we knew such a place existed."

Board Hears New Policy On Disputes

Members Feel Good But Not Strong Enough

A new policy regulating personnel relations within the Palm Springs Unified School District won Board of Education approval at its first reading here this week.

The policy is designed to limit personnel problems to the realms of district business and stipulates procedures be followed in personnel disputes.

Labeled as a "Guide to Staff Relationships," the policy sets forth means by which grievances may be resolved by the district staff and administration.

"In no instance is it desirable to air grievances publicly," states the policy in a summary paragraph, indicating that the "guide" is largely intended to prevent "public trial" of school district affairs.

Earmarked for official adoption as a part of district regulations following its second reading before the board, the Guide drew unanimous approval from board members who, if anything, found it a trifle weak.

BOARD PRESIDENT Arnold Rumwell cited "situations which have occurred in the past" and noted that such situations may have been prevented by a clear-cut policy.

"This new policy is not complete yet," Rumwell noted. "It doesn't have enough teeth."

Member Frank Muller pointed out that all school personnel should air their grievances "through proper channels."

"A lot of information went out that shouldn't have in the past," he said, apparently referring to faculty disputes which received considerable publicity in recent weeks.

Member B. H. Poliak concurred.

Head of Arizona Memorial Had Reason to Take Job

Campaign Progress Excellent

By ELLEN SAUNDERS

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — "I took the job because during World War II I had helped bury men with only my hands."

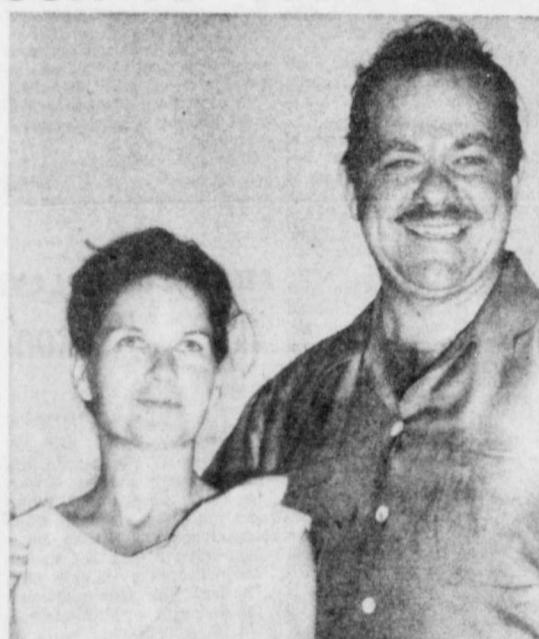

This was Darrell F. Brady talking, the same Brady who has produced 30 documentary television shows including the widely acclaimed "Crack in the Iron Curtain," and he was explaining why he is heading the nation-wide campaign to raise $2,000,000 for a monument which will rise above the USS Arizona in Pearl Harbor.

BRADY WAS ON an overnight trip to the desert—"there is a misseur here who does more for my ankles than anyone I've ever found. Smashed them both when I bailed out of a bomber I was piloting over Sumatra."

"When Congress passed the act last year which made the USS Arizona a national shrine, I was in Honolulu. Someone who knew I was a member of the National Board of Directors of the Boy Scouts of America, put the finger on me for the job."

"DO YOU KNOW," Brady continued, "there are still over 1,700 bodies entombed at that ship? And do you realize that it is the only one of our battleships still in commission? Our flag still flies over the USS Arizona every day."

"And the response from the public has been excellent. We've already raised a quarter of a million and we only started last Dec. 7 when Ralph Edwards broadcast a "This Is Your Life" program from Pearl Harbor. The Navy Mothers of America are doing a terrific job and the Fleet Reserve has already sent in $50,000. We've got a lot of good things coming up. Bob Hope has promised to do something big for us, and the way things look now we should be finished in less than a year."

BRADY IS HAPPIEST about the large number of small contributions which have been pouring in. He thinks that Americans have sensed that here is an opportunity for them to honor all of our fighting men. Right now he is promoting a chain letter idea whereby every one who sends in a dollar is asked to write five more people requesting them to do the same.

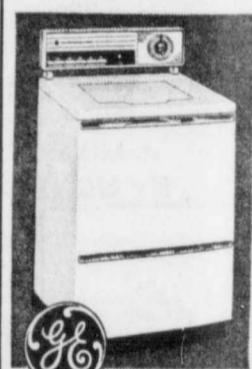

Brady made it very clear that he is not handling any funds personally. "The Navy takes care of that," he explained. Contributions should be mailed to the USS Arizona, Pearl Harbor. Brady flies over every month or so to see how things are progressing.

IN ADDITION TO the shrine, present plans call for a museum to be built at Pearl Harbor not far from the site of the battleship.

Anything over the $2,000,000 will be used to establish the Pearl Harbor Peace Scholarship Fund which will facilitate the exchange of students between the United States and Japan.

"What better memorial could we build?" asked Brady, looking down at his hands.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I've heard about some pretty impossible mothers-in-law, but I'll put mine up against any of them. Every time she sees my husband she tells him how "tired" he looks. She tells him (in front of me) that marriage has made an "old man" out of him.

The last test was when she had a set of twin beds delivered to my house because she said I wasn't letting him get his rest. She said it was an "anniversary gift" and made a deal to trade in our big double bed, without our permission. The men just came and took away our double bed and moved in the twins.

She constantly compares me with his old "sweetheart." Yes, after 19 years I've been told this girl is still "waiting for him." Help me, Abby, before I put my fist right through her mouth.

END OF ROPE

DEAR END: The chatter about how "tired" your husband looks, and the "childhood sweetheart" should go into one ear and out the other, but her "gift" of the twin beds should go out the door. Tell your hubby that if she continues to egg you on, you won't be responsible for what you say . . . and that's no yolk!

DEAR ABBY: I am a well-to-do bachelor of 65. I met a young woman of 22 and asked her to marry me. I told her my right age. I am afraid that by telling her my right age I ruined my chances with her. Would my chances have been better had I told her I was 55?

BACHELOR

DEAR BACHELOR: Your chances probably would have been better had you told her you were 75!

DEAR ABBY: There are five have to take the younger ones on my lap to keep them quiet. I can't enjoy the ride myself for all this fussing. Is there a better way of keeping peace?

MOM

DEAR MOM: Before the ride, have all the kids draw cards out of a deck. The highest cards get a "window." The next time, eliminate the ones who have sat by the windows, and so forth.

DEAR ABBY:

I am an unmarried woman of 34. I was lonely and thought I wanted to see something of life and have a little fun. I met a man, but his idea of "fun" and mine were not the same, so the fling was short. He informed me that with my notions I would remain an old maid for the rest of my life. I told him I certainly would and by preference

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes to be wrong.

Another Reason for Desert County Seen In Riverside Smog Costs

Areawise, two-thirds of Riverside County has no smog problem, yet we now have a County air pollution control department.

Again illustrating the distinct climatic difference between the desert region and the comparatively small remainder of the County in the vicinity of Riverside City, the smog-free two-thirds is contained almost entirely in the 5,000 square miles of the Fourth Supervisorial or Desert District.

Admittedly the City of Riverside and environs, which contain the other four small Supervisorial Districts and account for only one third of the County's total area, suffers a large part of the time from an extremely bad smog situation.

With the Desert District paying 40 percent of the total County tax bill, the expense of another tax supported agency of little or no use being added to the already high assessments levied on desert property owners is another example of the inequities which have led thousands of desert dwellers to favor the formation of a separate Desert County.

Desert taxpayers are increasingly feeling the burden of providing the major part of the funds for innumerable County departments and services which are largely retained for the benefit of the one-third area in an almost entirely "different world" on the smoggy side of our high protective mountain barriers.

In this prime instance, it happens that the County air pollution department is in its beginning stages, and with a relatively small operational budget. But it is certain that air pollution operations will expand and costs increase to major figures if it is to be effective in smog reduction in the Riverside region, which is located within the perimeter of the Los Angeles smog basin and also is in the proximity of a number of large and small industries contributing locally to air pollution.

The injustice of desert citizens paying 40 percent of the tax bill to combat smog in the Riverside sector is the more pronounced when it is remembered that Riversiders have sought establishment of industries adding to their local problem while conversely the desert district has consistently and strenuously fought against attempts to locate cement plant and similar offensive smog creators in this region.

With a majority of the Board of Supervisors representing the four small smog laden districts dissecting the City of Riverside, it is apparent that air pollution control costs will be continued on a county-wide tax basis regardless of the desires of desert taxpayers.

Until such time as Desert County may be formed about all that can be hoped for is that open burning will be abolished in the unincorporated areas of this region. That would at least end occasional smoke nuisances and compensate to some extent for the tax contribution made by desert residents.

Time alone will tell whether or not we get at least that much consideration and benefit from the new County air pollution control department.

The Berlin Command--Final

WEST BERLIN — As you move Up Front in wars, cold and hot, the strong verities begin to assert themselves. In this city, the most exposed position in the free world today, one truth is that we are the butt of a very grim game. The awkward position of the United States is a lethal version of the old parlor trick where somebody is stood on the arms of a chair and given two glasses of water to hold against the ceiling. How does he get down from the perch?

But another truth about Berlin is that we do have a chance to come away from it, if we play it right, without a humiliating and dangerous sprawl. Two important and contrasting dignitaries, each in a separate manner, represent a way out. One is Major General Barksdale Hamlett, U. S. Commander of Berlin — baldish, patient, experienced, perceptive and unquotable. The other is Willy Brandt, Mayor of West Berlin — thick-haired, brilliant, tough, amiable and articulate in several tongues.

GEN. HAMLETT is both the military and diplomatic head of the American occupation. Although he talks to correspondents only off the record, one comes away from an interview with a sense of his determination and tenacity that do not require quoted words.

From where Hamlett sits in his dual capacity, the outlook is that victory of a sort can be won in Berlin if we don't do anything else than refuse to budge and if we do not flinch from the possibility of going to war rather than retreat.

IF THERE IS WAR in Europe,

it will not be a limited one with prophylactic weapons. President Eisenhower has said, and it is fully accepted as a fact, that any European war is sure to be fought with nuclear explosives. This fact and its acceptance are in our favor. The war which the Kremlin least wants to fight is the all-out nuclear war. This represents the best chance of making Khrushchev back down from what is thought to have been a drunken threat to oust us from Berlin. But if we are to take advantage of this, we must be grateful for drunks.

This is one sort of victory in Berlin — a winning victory. The other one is personified in the peppy and engaging leader, Willy Brandt. The dynamic Mayor has everything going his way. Despite all the threats and outside tension, West Berlin is a boom city.

THE MAYOR SPEAKS exuberantly of his lessening unemployment, his increasing industry, his huge street and housing projects and the funds to pay for them, the many tourists, the closer ties with the Federal Republic, the continuing flow of immigrants from the Communist cities and provinces of East Germany.

IT is trite to say that the West Berlin prosperity makes a mockery of the shabby East Berlin and other Communist cities, but this material good fortune may not be as important as something else. Mayor Brandt is only one of many living proofs that Germany is producing vigorous, personable, resourceful leaders who are recognized as such in Europe and everywhere else. It is German leadership which, in the end, will have to save Europe from Communism.

THEY ARE RINGING Grandpa on the deal tomorrow. It's his Day, too.

That's for me. I qualify and can wear four hash marks on my sleeve.

Have just received a copy of the Oak School Gazette from Hinsdale, Ill.

WHICH REMINDS ME, I've heard a lot of people say that heredity always skips a generation. Like my dad was a doctor, I'm not but my son is.

I'm a newspaperman (I think) my son isn't but Grandson No. 1 is.

At least, the old name is up there on the masthead on the editorial page of the Gazette.

IT'S A GOOD newspaper although staffed by 9 and 10-year-olds. Has an index to features, two banner lines on Page One, and two comic pages, a cross between Peanuts and Flash Gordon.

I couldn't find the sports page and there wasn't any column but the paper had been slightly man-handled, boy-handled is better I guess, and the back page was missing.

Quotes from the News

BATON ROUGE, La. — Louisiana Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr., announcing that he will not recognize Lt. Gov. Leether Frazar as acting governor during the illness of Gov. Earl Long:

"I shall continue to recognize Earl Long as governor until he declares himself unable to act or until his inability to perform is declared by some official body."

"Let's discuss everything. Let's weigh all the pros and cons."

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, on Adm. Lewis Strauss, whose nomination to be secretary of commerce was rejected by the Senate:

"Those interested in highway safety and in good police departments must also be good educators and salesmen — and we must never give up, no matter what the frustration."

MOSCOW — Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in a speech to workers in Riga, Latvia, declaring that the Soviet Union "needs prolonged peace":

"We are constantly fighting for it."

TOMORROW'S THE DAY

THAT DAD IS A DEAR.

AND THIS IS THE LONGEST

DAY OF THE YEAR.

Now for the results of my research work on Father's Day, having found my notes on the subject.

FATHER'S DAY will be 49 years old tomorrow.

I was surprised when I read that.

Had always thought that

Father's Day was an afterthought, having been whipped up some years after Mother's Day became official.

Somebody probably suddenly realized you can't have a mother without a father, too, so they set aside a day for him, around the longest in the year.

FATHER'S DAY got its start on June 19, 1910, and is the brainchild of the Spokane, Wash.

Ministerial Association which was prodded into action by a

Mr. John Bruce Dood of that city.

She is recognized as the founder of Father's Day.

In other words, she's the Mother of Father's Day.

MY BOOR doesn't tell me when Father's Day became official like Mother's Day.

President Woodrow Wilson is issued an official proclamation on the latter, setting aside the second Sunday in May.

Who did it for dad, I don't know although I tried to find out.

I've got encyclopedias, dictionaries and almanacs all over the floor.

Hardly a spot to drop an ash.

ANYWAY, the theme of this year's observance is Father's Role as the Head of the Family.

Nice to get him back there again but wonder what Junior and Mother think of that.

Have just been reminded that

I was so surprised to find out how old Father's Day was because I wasn't interested until some years later.

THEY ARE RINGING

Grandpa on the deal tomorrow.

It's his Day, too.

That's for me. I qualify and can wear four hash marks on my sleeve.

Have just received a copy of the Oak School Gazette from Hinsdale, Ill.

WHICH REMINDS ME, I've heard a lot of people say that heredity always skips a generation.

Like my dad was a doctor,

I'm not but my son is.

I'm a newspaperman (I think) my son isn't but Grandson No.

1 is.

At least, the old name is up there on the masthead on the editorial page of the Gazette.

IT'S A GOOD

newspaper although staffed by 9 and 10-year-olds.

Has an index to features,

two banner lines on Page One,

and two comic pages, a cross between Peanuts and Flash Gordon.

I couldn't find the sports page and there wasn't any column

but the paper had been slightly man-handled, boy-handled is better

I guess, and the back page was missing.

One story was in a happy note about the school bus being stalled

by snow, another sad story on Page One was about report cards being issued with many of the kids dragging their feet

Press Club Meeting for Election

Desert Press Club at Palm Springs will hold its annual meeting and election of officers on Monday evening, June 29, when it holds its final, social affair until next fall.

The party will be at the Desert Inn around the pool. There will be swimming from 3:30 p.m. or after dinner for those who prefer it. The cocktail hour, hosted by the Club, will be from 6 to 7, with dinner hour set for 7, and election at 8 p.m.

The dinner is being catered by Pappy.

The nominating committee, Cliff Brown, chairman, Phil Stone and Bill Anderson, will present the following slate from which five directors will be elected for the 1959-60 season: Kenneth Brott, L.G. Brittingham, Cliff Brown, Hilda Crawford, Mark Green, Don Klotz-Buecher, Norm Loftus, John Michel, George Ringwald, Fred Weigel. Nominations may also be made from the floor.

President Fred Weigel will conduct the business session.

Scriveners to Spend Summer
In Carlsbad

Mrs. Harold Scrivner and two children, Donna and Dale, left Thursday morning to motor to Carlsbad where they have taken a house for the summer. Mr. Scrivner will join them Saturday, flying over from Palm Springs in his own plane, and will commute during the summer months, dividing his time between his business here (Harold's Union Service Station), and their business in Carlsbad.

Donna was a contestant in the Miss Palm Springs contest held at the Chi Chi Tuesday evening.

Leaving Soon For Mexico City

The A.R. Simons and their two children, Lynn, who just graduated from Palm Springs High School and John, who has completed his sophomore year at University of California at Berkeley, leave soon to motor to Mexico City. They plan to spend most of the summer there, returning to Palm Springs the end of August.

To Summer in Pasadena Tournament of Roses 1959 has sent the Palm Springs Float Association a big color photograph of the Palm Springs float that won second place in Class A-13 last January . . . In a gold frame with the rose insignia . . . it's a handsome picture of the float that was a huge picture frame . . . showing the sun . . . the mountains and the desert flowers . . . and with pretty girls standing in the palm oases at each end . . . and in the flowers on each side . . .

This is the float which was stalled in front of the television cameras for eight minutes . . . due to a breakdown ahead of it . . . and which was viewed on television screens across the nation . . . and even as far distant as Ireland . . .

It drew advance publicity in metropolitan papers . . . was listed in the brochures that went out . . . and was viewed by thousands as it stood on display in the Pasadena lot for several days after the parade . . . It cost $12,300 and was paid for by money raised by a small and dedicated group of volunteers who believe in publicity . . . and thought America's Foremost Desert Resort should be represented in this great Tournament of Roses spectacular that everyone watches on New Years Day . . .

It's a beautiful picture in a handsome frame . . . but it poses a problem . . . Tournament officials would like to make an official presentation in Palm Springs . . . The problem is . . . to whom? . . . To the city which didn't even give the project its blessing for thanks? . . . to the Chamber of Commerce which refused financial aid? . . .

For the time being . . . the big framed color portrait is on display in Desert Sun offices . . . and if you haven't seen it yet . . . I think you will be proud as the float Association is . . .

The William E. Omards . . . desert home owners . . . are leaving on a two month trip that will take them into the states of Ohio, Connecticut, and New York and the Province of Ontario, Canada . . . Bill expects to do some fishing in Georgian Bay and the Bay of Quinte . . . His wife Bessie is of the author of "The Littlest Kid" . . . The travelers expect to return to the desert in September . . .

Mr. John Williams was elected to head the newly formed memorial and endowment fund. The first donation was given by Mrs. Copass in memory of her father, James W. Mrs. Copass announced that Frances Reis of Little Folks Cottage has donated many clothes for the patients of Angel View.

Miss Peggy Jacobs was appointed third vice president and financial secretary; Mrs. George Morris, public relations director; and Mrs. Doak Davis, Mrs. George Chandler, Mrs. John Williams and Mrs. Joseph Cirone are to be the basis of the hospitality committee.

Mrs. James Carlisle gave the invocation and Mrs. Jack Copass, president of the organization, conducted the meeting, and reported on a recent meeting of the executive board of the Angel View Crippled Children Foundation held in Desert Hot Springs. At the meeting she pledged the support of the Auxiliary in addressing 16,000 letters, carrying the recent editorial printed in The Desert Sun regarding the word of the clinic and the help of the Palm Springs Auxiliary is giving.

Summer work for the Auxiliary will include the making of approximately 5,000 pink carnations which will be used to decorate the November Pink Carnation Ball to be held at El Mirador Hotel. Mrs. Frank Bogert, second vice president and chairman of ways and means committee led this discussion. Mrs. Richard Bagdasarian promised her assistance with arrangements for the party. Expert Tips on How to End Your Packing Woes

By CLAIRE COX

United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — An estimated 16 million suitcases are going to Europe this year, and chances are that most of them will be over-stuffed, says the president of the American Society of Travel Agents.

Max B. Allen, also president of the "Ask Mr. Foster" travel agency, says that if you ask him, most of the 700,000 travelers heading for Europe this year will have eyes much bigger than the average 24 suitcases they each will take along.

Tourists tend to take too many changes of clothes and often find they do not use everything they cram into their baggage.

"Travelers most often take in many cities, in many countries, and meet new people every couple of days," Allen said in an interview. "The same dress can serve you in Rome, London, Paris and Berlin."

Hot Weather To Give Decision To Ted Williams

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — The arrival of hot weather was expected today to tell the final tale for Ted Williams.

Hampered by a pinched neck nerve and resultant shoulder pains, Williams has been having the most miserable spring of his career. He is batting only .188, has been shut out in 15 of the 31 games in which he played and was humiliated by being benched the first time in his career for not hitting.

WILLIAMS WANTS to quit while on top and, if hot weather doesn't loosen him up so that he can swing back among the batting leaders, this well may be his last year.

The thumper, despite a $125,000 salary, hasn't found baseball a bed of roses. His career was interrupted twice by wars and he has suffered continual injuries which include an elbow fracture, broken collar bone, ankle sprains and virus attacks.

HE WENT INTO this season highly hopeful of winning his seventh American League batting title and his third in a row. Then, at the end of March, he was forced to quit the team and enter a hospital for treatment of the pinched nerve in his neck. He was discharged April 8, wearing a medical collar, and didn't get back into action until May 12.

That day Ted went hitless in five trips to the plate—and it got worse. In his first six games he managed only one hit and was batting a microscopic .045. Six games later he pulled a leg muscle which caused him to miss two games except for one pinch-hitting appearance.

SUNDAY HE WAS benched for the first time in his long major

LOS ANGELES — UPI — The Los Angeles Dodgers, heartened by two outstanding performances last night, take on Cincinnati again tonight in quest of their second straight victory over the Reds.

Duke Snider's hitting and the come-back pitching debut of Roger Craig featured the Friday night clash from which the Dodgers came away with a 6-2 victory.

Tonight it's Don Drysdale, 6-5, against Bob Purkey, 6-7, in what could prove a pitchers' duel. Neither has a victory against the opposing club this year.

County Building Plans Changed

In a surprise move Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain proposed this week that condemnation proceedings be stayed on two Riverside properties chosen as part of a site for the health center for which the people voted a $255,000 bond issue in November, and that the health center be built on the county-owned acreage adjacent to the county hospital in Arlington.

With his proposal supported by Supervisor Fred McCall and Supervisor William Jones, Chamberlain hurled another bombshell with a motion that the entire jail and probation department be moved to the Arlington site, instead of only the new bond-issue-approved probation office and jail for which the Arlington location was chosen by the supervisors last week over his opposition.

BOTH MOTIONS carried by a three to two vote, with Supervisors George Berkley and Paul Anderson dissenting.

Obviously aghast at Chamberlain's actions, Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen reminded the supervisors that an allocation of Hill-Burton funds in the amount of $415,000 has been approved for the building on the 11th Street site.

The Hill-Burton committee has inspected and approved that particular site," he said, "and the $415,000 included $139,000 for the land. It was on this basis that the people approved the $255,000 bond issue, as part of the remaining estimated cost of $760,000. If the site is changed the $139,000 will undoubtedly be deducted from the Hill-Burton allocation."

ANDERSEN ALSO argued that the health department has no daily contact with the county hospital, but does have daily contacts with the building and safety department, planning commission, and county recorder. He agreed with Dr. Everett M. Stone, county health officer, that the health center should be in the Riverside downtown area in the vicinity of the courthouse. He said the State Department of Health concurred in this opinion. His plea for a week's delay fell on deaf ears.

The plans made last week were for building the new probation offices and jail facilities for which

Atomic Force To Be Topic of Lesson-Sermon

Human doctrines and inventions are weighed against the facts of spiritual creation in the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Christian Science churches. The subject will be "Is the Universe, the Earth, Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

Among the selections from the Bible are these verses from Ecclesiastes (7:5,29), "I applied mine heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and the reason of things, and to know the wickedness of folly, even of foolishness and madness: . . . Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions."

In a correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy declares: "The notion of a material universe is utterly opposed to the theory of man as evolved from Mind. Such fundamental errors send falsity into all human doctrines and conclusions, and do not accord infinity to Deity" (p. 345).

The Golden Text from Proverbs asserts, "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens" (3:19).

Dr. Edwin Dingle To Be Speaker At New City

Dr. Edwin Dingle will talk on the "Attainment of Spiritual Liberation" at the 10:45 a.m. Sunday service of the New City of Mentalphysics.

Dr. Dingle is the president of the Institute of Mentalphysics and founder of the New City, located on Twenty-nine Palms Highway between Joshua Tree and Yucca Valley.

His Sunday service will open the 46th Mentalphysics students' convention.
